If, in years to come, it brings back a wistful thought, a memory, its purpose will have been fulfilled. It will be a success.

MISS CAROLINE PERRY

Social Science

Her untiring efforts have been the source of memories we will cherish forever. Her classes are always a pleasant break in the day's routine, and her aid and guidance have been invaluable to us. Words cannot express our appreciation for her continued efforts to help us in every way, be it work, play or school. She works enthusiastically on each of the many things she undertakes. Because of this, and much more, we are proud to dedicate this, the 1948 volume of LEAVES OF HICKORY, to our beloved teacher, Miss Caroline Perry.

CLASS HISTORY

It was a clear, pleasant day in September, 1944 when one hundred and fifty-three poor, timid freshmen entered Du Pont High School. How long and spacious the hall seemed! We were frightened by the large group of people and especially those big Seniors who seemed to own the place. But in a few weeks things seemed to brighten up with Mr. Ferguson to guide us on the first part of our journey.

We started the year out right by electing Paul Kuykendall as president, with Miss Mary Porter Vivrette to supervise our group as class sponsor. We were well represented in all sports this year even if we were green freshmen. Albert Williams made all-city in baseball.

With eager eyes and faces we looked forward to our sophomore year, and our aims and aspirations were even higher. As sophomores we were a part of the place. Again this year we chose Paul Kuykendall for president, but had a new sponsor, Miss Elizabeth Osborne. Harry Gupton made all-city.

The second vacation over we again journeyed on to achieve the goal for which we set out. By this time our members had dwindled to seventy-nine. At our first meeting we elected, for president, Earl Swensson and were sponsored by Miss Lenna Cowgill. We also had a new principal, Mr. Ronald Brinkley. This year the subjects were slightly hard; in fact, we even had to take our books home occasionally. Albert Williams made all-city in baseball again this year along with teammates Harry Gupton and Buck Jones. Oscar McClintock was all-city in basketball and another member of our class, Jimmy Muhlig, was T.S.S.A.A. golf champ.

We had our class party but, of course the Junior-Senior Banquet was the main event. It was a decided success. Earl Swensson and G. C. Warren attended Boys' State during the summer. So ended the eleventh year of our great struggle for higher education.

Our last year in high school now begins. This year was to be a very good one. Miss Caroline Perry was our sponsor; and for our president we elected L. K. Thompson. Katherine Williams was voted to reign as football queen at the homecoming game. Our class was well represented on the team with Paul Kuykendall as captain and Albert Williams as alternate captain. Abby was also on the all-star team. Quite a few boys and girls were outstanding on the hardwood. The Senior basketball boys, namely Harry Gupton, Captain, Albert Williams, Alternate Captain, Oscar McClintock, Buck Jones, and Joe Barnes, gave the spectators plenty of thrilling moments with their performance and their support helped the team chalk up the interscholastic league and seventh district championships. Harry Gupton and Joe Tom James made the seventh district all-tournament team, Harry Gupton making the all-district, and Oscar McClintock made the all-city team.

The editing of Hickory Nuts, our school paper, was hard work, but lots of fun. Paul Kuykendall was its editor. Then came the time to publish the LEAVES OF HICKORY. This proved to be quite a responsibility, but Johnny Hopkins was a very capable editor-in-chief. As the time grew near, everyone was anxiously awaiting the Junior-Senior Banquet.

Of course, we think our class to be the best ever to graduate from Du Pont High School. But I think that all of us—good, bad, and indifferent—are sorry to say good-bye to dear old Du Pont High School.

As we encounter the conquest of a new world we realize there is new work to be done; here a pause and a great sincere thanks for guiding teachers, for friendships, for knowledge, for a privilege of going to school, for memories that are never to be forgotten, for thousands of things to keep forever.

CLASS PROPHECY

Here it is, 1958, and it seems that it was only yesterday that I walked from the portals of ye ole' Alma Mater, a real graduate.

How thrilled I was when Laura Ashworth called me several weeks ago to propose this scrumptuous party, here at her estate on Lebanon Road. Laura has done well for herself, having recently married the multi-millionaire, Scrapper Q. Vanscoope.

Today I am without my straightjacket, but accompanied by Dot Wright, a hard boiled nurse at the state mental hospital.

Tripping towards us is Anne Fleming, still in her air-stewardess uniform. Anne tells us that she has just returned from Panama on the newest A-16 passenger plane.

Walking out on the lawn towards the swimming pool, I spy Bill "Lay 'em in the isle" Green, a Warner Bros. movie comedian, comparing stories with Paul Carnahan, popular playboy. Bill's body guard is none other than tough, ferocious, Vernon Spurlock. Standing with them, but not getting a word in edgewise, are Sennie Brisby and Erma Sue Martin, both starring with Barnum and Bailey. Sennie is a remarkable weight lifter and Erma is a daring bare-back rider.

Peacefully sipping cokes under a lawn umbrella is Johnny Hopkins, photographer for Esquire, talking in sweet phrases to Evelyn Ferguson, Royal Crown's 1958 calendar girl.

In the pool are Lillian Fann and Dorothy Jackson, putting on an exhibition of strokes and diving.

A laugh just came from behind a clump of bushes and after investigation, I find Pauline Lambert, owner of a costume shop, relating a funny experience to Lillian Hoskins, just back from Switzerland and the Olympic Ice Skating, where she won a gold loving cup.

Mildred Moore, looking chipper as ever, just informed us that she is the founder of the Hopeless, Homeless Old Ladies' Home. With her are Peggy Story, now a magazine model for Pond's Lipstick, and Marie Pipkin. Marie is proud of the fact that she is co-manager of H. G. Hills Store in Old Hickory.

The class artists are together, discussing modern art. A loud talking member of the group is Melvin Baker, Harvey's window decorator. Earl Swensson, listening attentively, is a comic book artist, and famous for his horror strip, "Lonely Louie." Commending Earl is Nancy Newell, who always wanted to write comics but has gotten no further than "Beware of Dog" signs.

Breaking into a brisk trot around the lawn is Margaret Williams, who is getting in shape for the national women's tennis match.

Others here who are in the sports spotlight are Jimmy "Hole in One" Muhlig, a big one in pro golf, who recently outclassed Byron Nelson for the golf championship. (Nelson is so-o-o old now, you know!) Abbie Williams also has his title of an All-American Football player for the fourth consecutive year, and is in a hot argument with Buck Jones, who has just pitched his third no hitter of the season for the New York Yankees. With them is a well-known coach, L. K. Thompson. L. K. is the husky backfield coach at Alabama.

Sue Ladd, Davidson County truant officer, just came in with Rose Murphy, a poet known only in the class with Longfellow and Emerson. Another writer with them is Mildred Henderson, author of the best seller, Millie, How Could You?

Peggy Jones is having the time of her life, making eyes at Raphael Rives while he is trying to explain the merits of his toothbrush to her.

Bobby Pope, able editor of the Old Hickory Daily News, is busy as always kidding Charles Carver, Professor of Science at T. P. I. Dr. Andrew Baker is quietly standing by. Dr. Baker is a world famous scientist, who has just completed a detailed experiment dealing with Atomic egg beaters and hair curlers.

Gene Davis has just rushed over to announce that a talented group is ready to perform. Gene, national yo-yo champion, has his ever handy yo-yo along, making it do all kinds of remarkable stunts.

First on the program is Sibyl Page, a concert pianist, who is just back from a tour of the middle west. Next is Jean Ritchison, Annie Ruth Ray, and Lucy McDonald, a radio, commercial singing trio, which serenade us with the popular "No, Not That."

Jimmy Fischer excitedly clammers out in front of us with a set of delightful tricks. Jimmy is a touring magician and goes by the name, Professor Goodgosky.

Everyone is urging Ray Stephens, radio tobacco auctioneer for the "Strike it Lucky" cigaret program, to show his talents. Applauding loudly are Virginia Ann Reed, science teacher, who is at the present giving Mr. Huffman a refresher course in physics, and Jimmy Denton, a successful dentist, and Carol Collins, English teacher, who is at the same time giving Miss Cowgill a refresher course in English. We hear that Jimmy has been trying for a long time to get Virginia to say yes, but she just won't listen!

Jack Knies has invented a new and improved ice cream cone, and is handing out samples to admiring bystanders. Charles Doty is munching loudly on a cone and has a very pleased grin on his face. The grin is because he is rather hungry, after spending three months on a flag pole, trying to drop tennis balls into a milk bottle. Dot Brown, chairman of the cola taste test committee, seems to be enjoying hers too, but Billy Moody, who approves only his own products, has now wandered away to a group of criminal workers. Billy, who is a salesman and demonstrator for the lie detecting machine (we hear that on the side he sells Fuller Brushes) is putting on a high pressure sales talk to Calvin Pendley, F.B.I. agent, who has just tracked down a notorious murderer. Very interested in the talk is Joe "Sherloc Holmes" Morrow, a noted detective, and Tommy Adams, a recognized criminal lawyer. The local jail warden, Charles Floyd, shows little interest.

Harry and Dot Binkley Gupton have managed to make it here from their Utah cattle ranch. They are discussing big business with Faye Shepherd, who owns a famous riding academy and horse stable. Faye's latest cup winner is the race horse "Loose Joints."

Joe Barnes, President of the Boys' Shoeshine Union, is escorting Doris Tomlinson, who is the advisor for the shoe shine picketeers. Joe just saw one of his old friends, Oscar McClintock, owner of the Boscobel Heights Apartments.

Dr. Ann Morrow just came in, and I'll bet that she is busier than ever as head surgeon at John Hopkins Horsepitol. With her is Mildred Thompson, a leading psychiatrist.

Joe James is the center of attraction around the punch bowl, telling of his hair-raising adventures in South Africa, as a lion hunter. Freeman Cowherd, manager of Margo's, shudders as one leaps from a near-by bush.

Wait a minute! Who is that on the bench over there in the shade? Why, it's just Charles Judd catching a bit of shut eye. Charles is a successful mattress tester and can be seen working in Sterchi's display window between the hours of 9 A.M. and 5 P.M.

Agnes Bass, who now hands out towels at Father Ryan during the sports season, just came by looking for Katherine Williams, maid of cotton, who is now modeling for Willette.

Kenneth Merritt is telling Marcelle Denton and Virginia Huffines about his zoo in Old Hickory. Marcelle and Virginia are secretaries to the governor. Billie Jo Bradley Layhew, salesmanager for Loveman's is laughing at a monkey story.

Having a wonderful time seeing their old friends are Paul Kuykendall, G. C. and Dot Swinea Warren. Paul and G. C. are co-owners of a chain drug company.

Bobby Muhlig, a trombone player, has his band, along with him. They now play a gentle hint, "Goodnight Ladies."

Everyone looks happy and quite satisfied as they leave, knowing that everyone has been so successful in his or her business. I hate, very much to be taken away, but Dot need not speak; I'll go quietly.

SEASON'S REVIEW

The Du Pont football team ended the season with 5 wins, 3 defeats, and 1 tie. Early season loss of Bill Smith and L. K. Thompson held the backfield down, but Du Pont had one of the most outstanding lines in the city. The Bulldogs played their best game against strong Clarksville, coming away with a 6 to 0 win. Paul Kuykendall was chosen captain, Albert Williams as alternate captain. Albert "Abby" Williams was selected end on the All-Nashville team. The Bulldogs chose John Raymond Smith as Du Pont's most valuable player.
